FLAGSTAFF LODGE NO. 499 HAS OWN BRAND OF ELKS

If you want to see a real live elk, go to the Elks Lodge. At least this seems to be the story at the recent Arizona State Mid-Year meeting, October 11-12, held at the Flagstaff Lodge No. 499.

The view of the San Francisco Peaks through the large glass windows at the rear of the lodge afforded all Elks and their ladies attending the conclave, a once-in-a-lifetime bonus.

Both days of the meeting a herd of Elks was visible less than 100 yards from the Lodge. A bull and five cows were counted and excited the visitors as the elk nonchalantly grazed away.

SICKNESS & DISTRESS

Jack Moncher, VA Center Hospital; J. T. McDaniels and Bill Daniels at the Community Hospital.

NOMINATION OF TRUSTEE

A vacancy has occurred in the office of trustee and nominations are still open to fill the unexpired four years of a five year term. Nominations will be accepted during the regular meetings of October 21 and November 4.

Election will be held during the regular November 4 meeting.

SKYROOM RESTAURANT TEMPORARILY CLOSED

The Skyroom Restaurant in the Elks Building is temporarily closed due to a flash fire in the exhaust system in the kitchen.
